PANTHER RETAINS TRACK TITLE

RAYMOND BOSWORTH WINS FIRST SWIFT PLAYWRITING PRIZE

Charles Malam and R. Gould Receive Second and Third.

SAME PRIZES TO BE GIVEN NEXT SEASON

High Quality Plays and Casts Give Fine Productions.

"The Blessed Vagrants," by Raymond Bosworth was awarded first prize in the Swift prize playwriting contest held Thursday evening in the Playhouse. Charles Malam and Richard Gould received second and third prizes respectively. The awards of $75, $50, and $25 were based half on the script and half on the actual playing quality as shown by production. Miss Marion Swift made the awards and announced that Mr. Charles Swift, a trustee of the college and donor of the prizes, would make similar awards next year on the same basis. The judges were Professors W. S. Burrage, Frank Cady and Harry G. Owen.

The Swift prize for playwriting is the only one of its kind offered in American colleges. The writers of the plays have the opportunity of seeing how their brain children stand up under the test of production. The audience contributes considerably to the success of a play. Its reaction brings out the weak and strong points of the work and enables the author to rectify bad points in dialogue and technique.

WILLIS CHOSEN NEW HEAD OF "M" CLUB

B. H. Beck, New Coach To Speak At Annual Banquet.

Albert Willis '29 was elected president of the varsity "M" Club at a meeting held Friday. Arthur Hingston was made vice-president and Carl Sorensen secretary.

Mr. Willis has been active in sports since entering Middlebury and has made his letters in football and baseball during the past two seasons and also won his numerals in his freshman year. He is sports editor of the 1929 Kaleidoscope and is vice-president of the undergraduate association. He is a Sage, Waubanakee and member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity. Mr. Hingston has been on the varsity baseball squad since his freshman year. He is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity. Mr. Sorensen has been on the baseball and basketball teams for the past three years and was captain of basketball the past season. He is on the men's athletic council, is a Waubanakee and member of Chi Psi fraternity.

The "M" Club also voted to take charge of the informal dances held in the Gymnasium for the purpose of raising money for varsity sweaters. This has been done in the past by the Undergraduate Association. The club will also have charge of appointing cheer leaders.

The annual banquet of the club will be held Monday evening, June 18. B. H. Beck, the new Middlebury coach, will be one of the speakers.

ALBERT D. LEAHY '28 AWARDED K. D. R. CUP

Albert D. Leahy '28 is the first recipient of the Kappa Delta Rho cup which is to be given annually to the undergraduate of the men's college who has done the most for Middlebury. The winners of the Klevenow-Hazeltine cup and the Dutton fellowship are excluded.

Mr. Leahy has been very active in extra-curriculum activities since entering Middlebury. He has been president of the class of 1298 for the past two years. He has been a member of the debating team during the past two seasons and has won a Lawrence Prize both years. He is a member of Tau Kappa Alpha, the honorary forensic fraternity. Mr. Leahy has been in the Men's Glee Club and in Wig and Pen. He played in "The Lawless." "The Admirable Creighton" and will appear in the Commencement Play "The Dover Road." He was manager of varsity football last fall. Mr. Leahy is a Sage, a Waubanakee, and a member of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity.

CHANGE IN ATHLETIC CONSTITUTION VOTED BY UNDERGRADUATES

New System Effects Election Of Managers—Powers of Athletic Director.

A new constitution for the government of athletics at Middlebury was passed at a meeting of the Undergraduate Association held Tuesday evening, May 22 at the McCullough Gymnasium. The new system was drawn up by George R. Hinman '28, and Harold B. Whittemore '28, and will fill many long felt needs for bettering athletic conditions in the men's college.

Provisions have been made to abolish former rules which were felt to be either out of date or unfair, particularlyin regards to the award of letters in football and basketball. The powers and functions of the Athletic Council are changed, and also a new methodof electing managers is established.

The position of graduate manager was anulled, and the director of athletics given his powers. The new arrangement as incorporated in the constitution under Section 6 reads as follows: There shall be an officer of this Association known as the Director of Athletics. His duties shall be: 1. To receive gate receipts, guarantees, and other monies from the respective managers, and to fix the amount of guarantees to be paid visiting teams, in consultation with the managers of the various athletic teams. 2. To turn over to the managers of the various athletic teams for travelling expenses such amounts as may be necessary, and to receive from the various managers, not later than 48 hours after the return of the teams to Middlebury, an itemized account of the disbursement of these monies. 3. To receive and pay bills against the Association. 4. To have general supervision of such college athletic fields, buildings, permanent equipment and other properties as under the control of the Middlebury College Athletic Association. 5. To have charge of all ticket arrangements and the sale of same. 6. To submit to the Athletic Council annually at the autumn meeting a complete, detailed report, properly audited, of the financial affairs of the previous college year; this report when approved to be printed in the Middlebury CAMPUS. In addition to this he shall present at the spring meeting a detailed statement of the finances of the Association for the first term of the current college year. His accounts to be open for inspection to the mem-

SENIOR PLAY WILL OFFER COMEDY OF VERY HIGH GRADE

Clarence Young and Pauline Sanford Do Leading Roles.

THE "DOVER ROAD" BY A. A. MILNE

Delicious Humor and Insane Situations Feature Phantasy.

"The Dover Road," by A. A. Milne, will be given in the college Playhouse the evenings of June 15 and 16 by senior members of the Wig and Pen. The production will be under the direction of Professor William Northrop Morse and assistants chosen from the play production classes. The play is now in rehearsal and promises a fine production. P. A. Xanthopoulo and Grant Lavery are designing and constructing the set.

A. A. Milne is one of the outstanding younger English poets and playwrights. His play, "The Dover Road," is a high comedy of character and contains a certain fantastical element which is decidedly Milneish. The action takes place in the home of a wealthy English gentleman. It is a queer establishment for runaway couples where the lovers can come and spend a week all alone, in one of the several wings of the house. The dialogue is fast and racy, but not at all objectionable. This delightful bit of sophisticated whimsy and deliciously insane situation is played by a capable cast.

Clarence Young, as Lattimer, the master of the establishment, carries most of the fantastical element of the play. He plots the most diabolical schemes for inflicting mental and spiritual torture on the loving couples who partake of his hospitality. There is a deep note of pathos running through his part.

Leonard, the lord, played by John Walker, offers some delightful, crazy situations. Albert Leahy, as Nicholas the poet, furnishes a great deal of amusement. His lines are packed with the kind of humor which one likes to hear over and over again.

JOURNALISM TO BE TAUGHT NEXT YEAR

Next semester a course in Journalism will be given for the first time in Middlebury. Elba Henry, the Director of Public Relations, will be in charge of the course. Mr. Henry was connected for several years before coming here with the Rutland Herald and has had wide experience in newspaper work.

The course, as outlined by Mr. Henry, will cover routine assignment work, somewhat similar to that used at present by the CAMPUS, including straight news stories, feature articles and sports. Practical editorial work according to Associated Press standards will be stressed. In advanced work head writing, editing, rudiments of proof reading, editorial writing and desk work will be taken up. Class discussions will be a feature of the course.

Throughout the course leading daily newspapers and standard work on journalism will be used as textbooks.

It is a "C" course, with examination, and permission must be obtained from Mr. Beers and Mr. Henry. The course is classed as English 36 and is open only to Juniors and Seniors. Those intending to take the course are requested to see Mr. Henry within the next week.

WINS GREEN MOUNTAIN CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIP WITH 64 1-6 POINTS

Catamount Scores 47 1-2; Cadets Take Third With 23 1-2.

BAGLEY SETS A NEW HIGH JUMP RECORD

Team Well Balanced, Eight Firsts, Six Seconds and Six Thirds.

By WARD S. YUNKER

For the second time in as many years, the Middlebury track team won the Green Mountain Conference Track Meet, when last Saturday Coach Brown's aggregation rolled up 64 1-6 points to Vermont's 47½ and Norwich 23 1-3. From the very start it was evident that the contest lay between the Catamount and the Panther, with the Norwich squad sadly outclassed except in one or two events. The meet was close throughout and it was not until the last few events were run off, that Middlebury was assurred of first place and the championship.

The track was very slow and soggy due to the many days of rain and records in the cinder path events were in no danger of being broken. The same cannot be said of the field events, and although only one record was smashed, others had narrow escapes. Bagley continued to raise the high jump record some more when he placed first in that event. Both the Conference Meet record and the college record went by the boards when Bagley cleared the bar at 5 feet 10 5-8 inches. New records in the discus and hammer throw were looked for, but

MIDDLEBURY AVIATOR TO ASSIST COL. LINDBERGH

Charles S. ("Casey") Jones, a graduate of Middlebury in the class of 1915, is to be an assistant to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who has recently been appointed chairman of the technical committee of the newly formed Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc.

The organization includes two great railroad systems, five investment banking houses, the Wright Aeronautical Company and the Curtiss Aeorplane company.

Mr. Jones, veteran test and racing pilot, for several years has been an executive in the Curtis company.

Mr. Jones is to leave for Europe this week to make an extended study of airports there.

BANSHEE INSTALLED AS LOCAL CHAPTER OF MORTAR BOARD

Senior Honorary Society Founded 1918; Forty Chapters.

The Middlebury chapter of Mortar Board, senior honorary society for women, was installed Sunday, May 27. The new chapter has a membership of 14, including six Banshees and eight Worms. Banshee, the old local society, was founded in 1912. Its members were not to number over 12, and were to be selected as those women "most popular and most representative of Middlebury."

Mortar Board was founded in February 1918 at Syracuse, N. Y., by representatives from existing senior honorary societies at Cornell, University of Michigan, Ohio State University and Swarthmore. The name Mortar Board was taken from the local name of the Ohio State chapter, but in order to secure for the national organization a place among the Greek societies, a Greek motto was adopted.

The Purpose of Mortar Board, as declared in the preamble to the constitution, is "To provide for co-operation between these societies, to promote college loyalty, and to stimullate and develop a finer type of college woman." Service, scholarship, and leadership are the objectives of the organization.

New members are elected by the outgoing chapter from under-graduates who have completed five-eights of their college work. No chapter is permitted more than fifteen members. There is a definite scholarship standard determined by each chapter to meet its own local conditions and standards. At present there are 40 active chapters scattered throughout the country. Conventions are held biennially. The magazine is Mortar Board Quarterly. The badge is a small black enamel mortar board with gold edgings and tassel, bearing upon it the Greek letters Pi Sigma Alpha.

The members of the Middlebury chapter are: 1928, Dorothy Abel, Helen Bradley, Alice Fales, Adelma Hadley, Ethel Palmer and Gertrude Parsons; 1929, Dorothy Dietz, Alla Fitzgerald, Muriel Harris, Thelma Gates, Catherine Hodges, Rose Marchiano, Gretchen Taylor and Mary Tudhope.

TRACKSTERS ELECT GILBERT M. SMITH AS 1929 CAPTAIN

Lawrence and Honsberger Manager and Asst. By Team Vote.

Gilbert M. Smith '29 of Sheffield, Mass., was elected captain of the 1929 track team to succeed Charles C. Arnold, who is lost to the team for next year by graduation. Ellsworth N. Lawrence '29 of Malone, N. Y., received the team vote for the 1929 Managership and Charles B. Honsberger of New York City as Assistant Manager.

Mr. Smith has been high point winner on the team for the past three years. He holds the college and state records in the 100 and 220 dashes, and he was a was a member of the Junior Week committee. Mr. Smith is a Sage, a Waubanakee and a member of Chi Psi fraternity.

Mr. Lawrence has been assistant manager of the team the past season. He was chairman of the Junior Week Advertising Committee. He is a member of the Chi Psi fraternity.

Mr. Honsberger is an assistant business manager of the CAMPUS, on the 1930 Kaleidoscope board, and on the business staff of the Saxonian. He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

The team has won every meet this year. With the loss of only four men by graduation, namely Captain Arnold, Brooks, Donald, Jones and Palmer, next year's tracksters should make an equally fine record.

IMPRESSIONS.

During the next three months five hundred Middlebury undergraduates and several times as many alumni of the college will be scattered over the United States and foreign countries. From the former group, some will be bell-boys, waiters, clerks; some will be travelling through New England and New York selling anything from maps to life insurance and others, more fortunate, will be spending the summer in Europe. The alumni will be enjoying shorter vacations at lakes, hotels, summer camps, everywhere, but always where there are other people. But the what and where are not as important, to the college at least, as the how.

How will you as Middlebury men and women uphold the reputation of your alma mater? You immediately say that it is no one's business but your own what you do and how you do it during the summer vacation. But is it. It is pretty hard to be a hermit even if one wanted to be; everything you do affects some one else, and everything a college man does affects his college.

It is true that the movies, College Humor, popular novels, etc., have done much to injure the standing of the college man and woman but this is only another reason why we should do everything to counteract the popular idea gained from such sources. By sensible and courteous conduct we can at least bring up the reputation of our own college, because just as a man is often judged, rightly or wrongly, by a single act, so is a calloge judged by a single undergraduate or alumnus.

We often hear the complaint, made half jokingly but with an element of truth that no one ever heard of Middlebury and that if one has he thinks it is "just another prep school up in the Green Mountains." To whatever extent this may be true it is largely the fault of the alumni and undergraduates.

So wherever you are this summer remember your alma mater; be proud of it and let other people know about it and remember they will be judging Middlebury by you.

EXAMINATIONS.

O yes, they begin Tuesday, don't they? And you think the Campus ought to give you some rules for preparing for them. But the time for that was last February. It takes 15 weeks to prepare for an examination, 30 in case of some. O, you want some short cuts; you want to know whether to cram or not; whether to read old examinations or not, whether to tell all you know whether it is asked for or not.

To be serious (as if we hadn't been already): during the next two weeks you will spend 15 hours in the gymnasium instead of the usual 30 at classes during the same length of time. If you have conscientiously studied your lessons, as often as once a week, even these 15 hours will be of no particular trial to you. If you haven't, you may know what you need to study, but at most, the knowledge gained will be of temporary value, though perhaps serving to "get you by."

So our advice is this: If you know your course, give it a brief review to satisfy yourself that you know it and then play tennis or go canoeing. If you don't know your stuff, find out what you don't know, make an outline of it and learn it just before the exam. Go canoeing or play tennis the rest of the time.

And if you want to know how to prepare for an examination come around next September and we'll tell you but you won't believe it and will go canoeing and play tennis while the rest of us (?) begin preparing for January and June finals.

WAMBA SAYS

Chipman Hill is a long walk but this does not seem to hinder the walkers.

The place looks almost like a college with commencement cars and fraternity visitors around.

Otter Creek is not the best place to swim, but what else can one use at Middlebury?

Only three more days of college, and then you must study for two weeks.

Coach Brown and Prof. Swett will have to call off their feud for a year or so until Coach Brown returns from his sabbatical leave.

What is funnier than the Blue Baboon is the fact that it is coming out. It is certainly time for it to come out alfter all this starving.

The only way to enjoy Blue Baboon jokes is to be on the board of censors.

Henceforth the purpose of Middlebury College will be to prepare men that they may transfer to Harvard and other diminutive institutions.

Now that the Banshees have gone Mortar Board, they'll have to get plastered for initiation.

Back to nature! Everyone is busy staking out his own little picnic claim.

Much pnuemonia to be the mode on the north side of the hill after the salley of the lightly clad under the brilliant illumination of Sunday evening.

If every young lady who came to the book store in search of a bar of chocolate bought a five dollar dictionary, the business might be restored to a paying basis once more.

A prayer that the professors will kindly assign more theses. Blessed be examinations, for they droppeth as the gentle rain.

He wonders if the leading of the seniors into Chapel last Sunday by one of the canine species is indicative of the beginning of a dog's life for the graduates.

Debating Club Officers Elected for Coming Year

Gretchen Taylor '29 was elected president of the Debating Club for the coming year at a meeting of the club held last Tuesday afternoon. Miss Taylor has been very prominent in debating, having participated in several inter-collegiate debates. She has also won the Women's Prize Speaking Contest.

Frances Spear '29 was elected vice president. Miss Spear has also shown great interest in debating. She is a member of Alpha Xi Delta.

Dorothea Higgins '30 was elected publicity manager of the club, a new office created by necessity this year. She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. It was voted that the office of Secretary be abolished since the club had shown no need for it during the past year.

INTERFRATERNITY TRACK MEET WED.

The annual interfraternity track meet will be held Wednesday, May 30. The preliminary running events will be held at ten o'clock in the morning, the finals at two o'clock in the afternoon. Last year the track championship was won by the K. D. R.'s.

All men who have made track letters are ineligible to participate in the meet. Also men who have placed in any meet are ineligible to compete in that event in which they made points, but may compete in other events.

The following are the events that will be held: 100 yard dash, shot put, high jump and half mile relay. Two mile relay. Two men from each fraternity will be allowed to participate in each event except in the half mile relay in which four men may compete.

OFFICIAL NOTICES

"The Pirates of Penzance" performance has been postponed until sometime next October.

Fraternity Rushing To Start November 19

The Interfraternity Council has drawn up the rushing rules for the men's college to take effect next fall. No change has been made upon the rules of previous years except to move up the date when rushing begins by nearly two weeks. According to Rule 15 rushing shall commence at the hour specified in rule 12 (12:40 at noon) on November 19, 1928, providing the football season ends November 17.

New Course in Philosophy To Be Taught Next Year

The course numbered 42, Constructive Philosophy, in the schedule for the coming year is a new course, not described in the Catalogue. It will be an effort to hammer out roughly the world-view and life-view which are necessitated by the most recent science. The head of the department is very much interested in reading and thinking on this line, and there may be a group who will want to take a plunge with him into the new attempts to interpret the universe and man's nature. There will be a good deal of reading and thorough discussion on the basis of the reading. All members of the group will be accounted partners in the inquiry.

It will be necessary that any who take the course have adequate preparation to know what it is about. So the membership is confined to Seniors and Graduate Students, with permission as a prerequisite.

Mr. Edward D. Raymond of Boston, Mass., announces the marriage of his daughter, Charlotte, to Mr. Theodore A. Schwamb, Saturday, May 26. Mrs. Schwamb graduated from Middlebury with the class of '26.

SPRINGFIELD WINS OVER PANTHER ON SLIPPERY FIELD

Bay Staters Play Good Ball In 7-2 Win—M. A. C. Game Cancelled.

By WARD S. YUNKER

On a wet and slippery field, Springfield College handed the Panther nine a 7 to 2 drubbing last Thursday. At game time it looked as though the contest would have to be crossed off the books as it had been in Springfield the Saturday before. Although it was not raining, the ground was very wet and the sky was threatening. The game started however and in a few innings the players were getting soaked from above as well as from underneath. The ball became so wet and heavy that playing was exceedingly difficult and the slipperiness of the base paths made daring base running impossible. This treacherous footing made fielding an uncertain task and the short bunting game of the Springfielders on hit and run plays worked to perfection.

Hooper started on the mound for the Red and White, but was relieved by Johnson in the fourth inning after Middlebury had scored in the third and was again threatening. Johnson pitched exceedingly good ball for the rest of the contest, considering the conditions under which he was laboring. Cook was on the rubber for the Blue and went well until the seventh inning when Whittemore had to relieve him.

Middlebury scored first in the third inning, Willis lead off with a single, took second on Cook's sacrifice to the pitcher's box, and scored on Anderson's single. Anderson was out trying to stretch his hit into a double.

Another tally trickled over the plate in the fourth inning on two hits and a base on balls. Sorenson led off with a single, his second hit of the game. Humeston drew a free ticket to first base, March laid down a pretty bunt along the first base line and beat the throw to first base making the bases loaded. At this point Johnson relieved Hooper for the Bay Staters. Sorenson scored while Jacobs was being tossed out at first. Kelley struck out and then Johnson worked a bit of strategy perfectly. Willis, Middlebury's leading hitter, was walked, filling the bases, so that Cook, who is not such a dangerous hitter would be up. Cook struck out to justify this strategy, leaving three men stranded on bases.

Cook saved himself a bit of trouble in the fourth, when after Williamson was safe at second, due to a wild throw to first by Franzoni, and Gustafson had beat out a bunt, he caught Duncan's pop bunt and doubled Gustafson off first.

Springfield scored in the fifth when Franzoni threw wide to first on a grounder by Woods. Woods took second on a passed ball and while James was beating out a grounder to short, started for home and was safe when Sorenson threw into the dirt. Craig got a single and Steeves drew a base on balls to make things look bad, but Johnson struck out and Williamson and Gustafson sent up infield flies to end the inning.

Successive singles by Woods, James and Craig gave the Red and White another run in the sixth and lead up to the hectic seventh inning. Steeves lead off with a single and Johnson beat out a bunt between pitcher and second base. Williamson struck out, but Fritz who was batting for Gustafson, drew a base on balls and the sacks were loaded. Cook forced Steeves in by walking Duncan. Davis sent a long fly to centerfield and when Jacobs dropped it, Johnson scored. Whittemore now relieved Cook with the bases still loaded and only one out. Woods strolled, forcing in Fritz with a third run. James flied out to Sorenson and Craig struck out to end the agony.

More fireworks were produced in the ninth after Duncan had flied out to Humeston. Davis singled and went to second on a single by Woods. Both runners advanced while James was being thrown out at first. Davis scored when Craig singled over short and Woods scored when Steeves singled past second. Johnson was thrown out by Whittemore to end the inning.

With Hasseltine on the bench because of an infected foot, Jacobs played center-field, with Humeston in left, and March in right. As Collins has left college, Klevenow was forced to rearrange his infield. Sorensen played first, Kelley on second, Franzoni at short-stop, and Anderson at third base.

Sorensen with three hits was the shining light on the Middlebury attack, while Dick Humeston's catch of Craig's long fly was the fielding feature. Craig's hit was labelled for at least two bases, but Dick galloped over and stopped its flight just in time. Steeves with two singles and a double, and Craig with three singles, led the Bay Staters attack, while Steeves' catch of Franzoni's foul fly over behind the visiting team's bench and James' fine playing at second base were the fielding features. Transcontinental Runners Do Not Train Says Pyle

Elyria, Ohio—(IP)—In an interview with the Intercollegiate Press here, C. C. Pyle, author of the first transcontinental marathon, better known as "Pyle's Bunion Derby," declared that aside from being a sporting and money-making event, his cross-country run is proving to be an excellent scientific experiment.

"My boys have broken every training rule which ever existed," Pyle said as he arrived here to arrange for having his runners stop in this city. "They eat pie, cake, candy, steaks and anything else they want. Some of them smoke like troopers. And still half of them weigh more than when started from Los Angeles on March 4."

Pyle said that the runners, among them champions of eleven countries, eat like farm hands, and have come to consider their daily run just a day's work.

With the marathon runners is a corps of physicians, some of them sent to Pyle by large hospitals for special research work.

TENNIS CONTESTS CALLED OFF DUE TO RAINY WEATHER

Vermont and Norwich To Be Played Tuesday and Wednesday.

The elements, which have frowned on the efforts of the college tennis team throughout the season, were again in evidence last week and prevented the matches with Tufts and Worcester. The players from these colleges were on hand, but the deluge which made the courts look like a bog forbade any matches. The contest with W. P. I. was to have been in the nature of a return match, as the Blue had previously beaten them by a 4-2 score.

Weather permitting(however, Vermont, Norwich and St. Michaels will be played this week, on May 29, 30 and 31 respectively. The match with U. V. M. is of particular interest because the Catamounts are in the lead for the state title, having defeated their rivals from Norwich, St. Michaels and Middlebury. When Vermont defeated the Blue at Burlington, it was for the first time in tennis history. Their victory was of the closest sort, and the return match should be keenly contested, especially as it is to be played at Middlebury.

Norwich and St. Michaels have not presented much competition to the Blue during the present season, The team has won over both by large scores, having defeated the Cadets by 5-1, and the Michaelmen by 5-0. It is therefore expected that the Middlebury players will win by a comfortable margin. Both matches will played away from home.

Captain Hindes, the only man entered in the New England Intercollegiates, did not fare well and lost to Wolf of Williams in the first round. He was to have played with Martin of Boston University in the doubles, but the authorities at Boston refused to permit this arrangement.

Elections for next year's captain will probably be held at some time during the present week.

VARSITY GOLF TEAM LOSES TO NORWICH

Wins One Foursome Match and Three Twosomes; Play Today.

The varsity golf team lost to Norwich by the score of 5-4 in the first match of the season played at Burlington Thursday May 24. Because of poor weather this spring the team has not been able to get much practise; however, they made a good showing against Norwich.

Edy, Riccio, Webber each won their twosome matches, but Edy and Webber, playing together, were the only ones able to win in the foursomes.

Tuesday May 29 the team will play a return match on the Burlington Country Club courts. It is expected that the team will make a better showing this week and come home with a victory.

Summary:

Foursomes: J. E. Bullock and M. Bastain (N) defeated Weston and Owen (M) 3-2.

Lorenzo and J. S. Bullock (N) defeated Tibone and Riccio (M) 2-1.

Webbe and Edy (M) defeated N. Sharland and D. Graham (N).

Twosomes: J. E. Bullock (N) defeated Weston (M) 5-4.

M. Bastian (N) defeated Owen (M) 6-5.

Riccio (M) defeated L. Lorenzo (N) 3-2.

J. S. Bullock (N) defeated Tibone (M) 3-1.

Edy (M) defeated Sharland (N) 6-5.

Webber (M) defeated Graham (N) 2-1.

K. D. R. AND D. K. E. TO PLAY IN FINALS

Dekes Win Decisively Over Chi Psi 13-3 in Six Inning Game.

Delta Kappa Epsilon swatted its way to victory Monday afternoon on Porter Field in the last semi-final match of the Interfraternity Ball League. The Deke hitters went on a Rampage the first inning, getting six hits and 9 runs, with Tweedy in the box. The next five innings were even, both teams scoring three runs and two hits.

The game was replete with errors for Chi Psi, they getting 8, including wild throws and the Dekes with only one. Sherman pitched remarkable ball, allowing only two hits during the six innings, and getting seven strikeouts. Williams held up well against the heavy hitting of the Dekes, but the 9 run lead was too much to overcome.

The championship game on Memorial Day at Porter Field, to follow the finals of the Interfraternity Track Meet, will be between Kappa Delta Rho and Delta Kappa Epsilon. Each of the teams have won their games by comfortable margins, although the Dekes have a slight lead in the batting and hurling, so a close game may be expected. There is a large cup awarded the winner of the championship and it also counts 150 points towards the Trophy of Trophies. Second place will be awarded 100 points, third and fourth each 75. In addition to these each team will be given 50 points for entering.

Score by innings:

D. K. E.	9	1	3	0	0	0	—	13
C. P:	0	0	0	0	2	1	—	3

Batteries: D. K. E., Sherman, Furbush; C. P., Tweedy, Williams, Hinman.

PANTHER RETAINS STATE TRACK TITLE

the sloppy condition of that part of the field made it impossible to get a good footing and so the records remain safe for another year.

Robbins of Vermont and Brooks of Middlebury won their heats in the 120 yard high hurdles, with Sherman, of Middlebury, and Yarrington, of Norwich, placing second in the respective heats. Robbins won the finals with Sherman taking second and Yarrington third. Thus for the first event, Vermont was leading, and the up staters increased this lead when Park and Kropper placed first and second in the shot put with Guarnaccia third. With Bagley winning the high jump and Captain Arnold taking first in the mile run, Vermont's lead was bitten into, and when Goltry won the 440 with Burrows second, the lead was gone.

From this point on it was nip and tuck. Smith won the 100 yard dash with Berry, of Vermont, second and Gruggel third. "Gillie" also won the 220 with Berry again taking second and Goltry just nosing out Gruggel for third place with a last second rush.

Wood, of Vermont, who was the favorite in the 2 mile run, failed to finish and Hinckley, of Norwich, took first place with Dalton, of Middlebury, second and Davis, of Vermont. third. The half mile was all Blue when Bill Donald, running his last race for Middlebury, took first with Thayer second and Arnold, also finishing his career, sprinted the last fifty yards to finish third.

Middlebury placed only one man in the finals of the 220 yard low hurdles and Yarrington of Norwich, won the event with Sherman of Middlebury, second and Robbins of Vermont, third. The Blue predominated in the track events scoring 43 points to 18 for Vermont and 11 for Norwich.

Vermont scored the most points in the field events, taking 29½ to Middlebury's 21 1-6 and Norwich's 12 1-3. Park and Kropper, of Vermont, cleaned up in the shot put. Bagley won the high jump for Middlebury with Fraceschi, of Vermont, in second place, and Hoffnagle, of Middlebury, and Howard, of Vermont, tying for third. The broad jump was a shut out with Robbins, of Vermont, winning first place and his teammate Mace scoring third. Buck, of Norwich, won second place.

All the Panther could get in the hammer throw was a third place by Schmidt. Mackay, of Vermont, won the event and Fisher, of Norwich, second. Sammy Guarnaccia came through in the discus throw with a first place and the meet was clinched. Park and Wood, of Vermont, finished second and third in this event.

Vermont was shut out in the javelin throw when Plumley, of Norwich, heaved the wand 160 feet, 9 inches and Palmer of Middlebury, and Taylor of Norwich, finished behind him. Williams won another first place in the pole vault and so has not lost to anyone this year. Lyman of Vermont, was second and Tomlinson of Middlebury, Paul of Middlebury, and Pierce of Norwich, were tied for third. Tomlinson won the jump-off for the medal.

Robbins, of Vermont, was the high scorer of the meet, with two firsts and a third. The Catamount star leaped 20 feet 4 inches to win the broad jump, won the high hurdles in 16.5 seconds, and scored a third place in the low hurdles. Gil Smith won both the 100 and 220 yard dashes to score his usual ten points. Smith has taken first places in the sprints in every meet this year. Goltry with a first in the 440 and a third in the 220, scored six points. After being out with infected legs the past two weeks, Goltry's recovery of form was a pleasant surprise. Arnold, with a first in the mile run and a third in the half mile, and Guarnaccia, with a first in the discus throw and a third in the shot put, were other six point men.

Captain Aronld ran a very pretty race in the mile, stepping out in front at the very start and increasing his lead as he went along. Arnold has won first place in the mile in every meet this season, excluding the New England Intercollegiates. The 440 was an extremely interesting race with Goltry leading from the start, but threatened by Burrows and Woodward throughout,

Coach Brown's men showed well balanced strength in winning the meet. As in all previous meets the Blue showed most of her strengtth in the track events, but had the punch in the field events which kept the Catamounts from breaking through to win. Having won every meet entered this year, the present Middlebury track team is a tribute to the coach who has trained it. As Captain Arnold, Brooks, Donald, Jones and Palmer are the only ones who will be lost by graduation, next year's track team should be strong and Middlebury can look forward in high hopes of winning the Green Mountain Conference Meet three times in a row.

The summary:

120 yard high hurdles: won by Robbins (V), Sherman (M) 2nd, Yarrington (N) 3rd. Time, 16.5 seconds.

1 mile run: won by Arnold (M), Davis (V) 2nd, Arnold (V) 3rd. Time 4:44.7.

Javelin throw: won by Plumley (N), Palmer (M) 2nd, Taylor (N) 3rd. Distance, 160 feet 9 inches.

PRESIDENT B. I. BELL SPEAKS AT VESPERS

Solution of Worthwhile Living is Found in Paradox.

President B. I. Bell of St. Stephen's gave the address at Vespers on Sunday, choosing as his text Matthew 8:26., "And He saith unto them, 'Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then He rebuked the winds and the sea and there was a great calm."

President Bell said, "Knowledge in this world is not enough. Too much knowledge is not a good thing for it makes us cowardly. There is the danger that an experienced man would not rush to meet a situation which a fool would meet without knowledge to guide him. If education, as it has sometimes been defined, is the accommodation of man to his environment, then education is a curse. Our education and general experience often removes us from love and hope, which are two things which make life worth living.

"The worst threat in man's life is his loneliness. When we analyze a person's achievements we find that usually they are the product of his desire not to be alone. Some say that life teaches us that perfect comradeship cannot be had, that we serve gladly but in return we get nothing, not even the understanding which we crave. Someone may ask, 'Without comradeship what is the use of living?'

"While we are children the universe seems a fairy palace, made by the hand of a great artist. Then we grow up and study the sciences; our ideas change. Educated people have always studied the sciences and learned truths from them which altered their views. The task of man after gaining scientific knowledge is to analyze his own beliefs. Man resents being told that hope is impossible so he turns to religion the lack of correlation between science and religion is everlasting. Whether life is worth living or not is found in only one solution. This solution must be in the nature of a paradox, two things which are contradictory and yet must be true. Science may teach a man facts but man cannot stop with scientific knowledge; the constant urge of the race rises in him and bids him trust the unseen. He makes his act of faith and the world looks different; he is balanced by both sides of the paradox and life is no longer unbearable. Through faith we can have life and hope. The most modern of all ideas is that of a darkness pressing down on us but calmed by the spirit of Christ calms just as long ago He calmed the waves and ruled the sea."

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON HAS DANCE AT HOUSE

RAYMOND BOSWORTH WINS SWIFT PRIZE

lace M. Kelley '29; Joe Denson, Freddie Lynch '29; Mrs. Denson, Betty Cady '29; Sylvia Denson, Carolyn Allen '30; Stanley Niel, Roy Davenport '31. Directed by John B. Walker in cooperation with the author.

"The Second Time," by Charles Malam was the first play of the evening and received second prize. It is the second one-act that Mr. Malam has written and produced in the Playhouse. Its theme is dull, uninteresting and worked to death, but as a whole the dialogue was excellent. The technique which the author used is particularly interesting. In the earlier part of the work, the father became highly incensed over the story told by the half-witted boy about Sylvia and Stanley Niel. Toward the end his obsession had become so great that the true story as told by the city boy had no effect at all on the old man and the effect of the impending tragedy was heightened. The ending was the only apparent slip in technique and was not at all clear to the audience. It was evidently the intent of the author to have Stanley killed at the end. This could not have been done by shooting a shotgun at him through a heavy door.

The acting as a whole was creditable. Wallace Kelley made a fairly good farmer lad. His dialect showed signs of individuality and constant practice. Freddie Lynch was satisfactory. A tendency to overact the part detracted a little from the tragedy of the play and at times appeared almost farcial. Neither Lynch or Kelley are at their best in tragic roles and should stick to farce or comedy which is more suited to their technique.

Betty Cady gave an outstandingly fine characterization of the mother who had run away in her youth. She managed to hold to a realistic dialect, which seemed to be a compromise between that of her husband and her son, while retaining a great deal of the expression and feeling that her part called for.

Carolyn Allen, by a finely modulated voice and graceful acting, successfully interpreted the part of the educated daughter who was "different" from the rest of the family. True strength and feeling marked her performance.

Roy Davenport was competent as the would-be novelist. His love scenes with Sylvia were very weak and unrealistic. She had to do most of the work entailed with getting into the embrace and when they finally arrived at the desired point, her lover seemed to have forgotten what was to come next.

The players were blessed with a splendid set by Huntress and Utton.

"THE BLESSED VAGRANTS," by Raymond F. Bosworth '29. Cast: The Chief, Laurence Wilson '30; A Policeman, Valmer Goltry '30; Two Vagrants, Ethel Palmer '28, Laurence Haskins '30. Directed by the author.

The first prize play, "The Blessed Vagrants," came as a distinct surprise to those who had seen Mr. Bosworth's delightful farce, "K-O for Junie," last year. "The Blessed Vagrants," is a serious play, dealing with powerful dramatic forces and sharp contrasts of character which call for exceptionally fine acting ability. The atmosphere of Christmas eve and the acute desire of the policeman to spend this night of nights at home with his children works on the mind of the coarse, rough police chief and causes him to dream of his youth and the softer sentimentalities of life. In the dream we see the two sides of the man fighting for supremacy. The plain, hard shell of his nature is represented by the chief behind the desk, while his better side is symbolized by Mary and Joseph. The dialogue is beautiful and simple, almost biblical in parts. It is a truly remarkable play for an undergraduate writer.

The cast was one of the finest that any one-act has had this season. Laurence Wilson did an excellent piece of work as the chief. His change in mood and the fight between the coarse and fine sides of his nature were clearly brought out through careful actiing and voice control. Valmer Goltry played a rather small part well. The high quality of his acting and expression set this as his best performance in the Playhouse.

Mary was beautifully played by Ethel Palmer who had a singularly acute understanding of the part. Her immediate response to the evidence of the better side of the chief was particularly well done. Mr. Bosworth's Mary, an old, old woman, is an interesting digression from the usual interpretation given her.

Laurence Haskins was excellently cast as Joseph. Perfect control over a striking voice featured his playing.

"A PHYSICAL PHANTASY," by Richard G. Gould '28. Cast: Celeste, Margaret Lackie '29; Mae, Elizabeth Moyle '31; Bernard, Sam Pattee '29, and a passerby. Directed by the author.

Richard Gould's play, "A Physical Phantasy," is a delightful piece of froth. Its light, witty dialogue carried a bit of truly clever philosophy and brought many laughs. The play was well cast, directed and staged.

Margaret Lackie did her usual fine playing. Her hatred of the big strong he-man was cleverly transposed into love and anxiety when she became "physical" herself and caused the hero to run out into the street where he got himself into an accident.

Sam Pattee as "so much beef on the hoof" had his first chance to play a part under forty. He showed up particularly well and with many small bits of side play added to the success of the play. Elizabeth Moyle was adequate in her small part. The fine setting was executed by Huntress and Utton. S. P. N.

Mrs. Alice E. Kellogg, '14, is now living at 45 Prospect Place, Tudor City, New York City.

Miss Mary E. Loughrey, '23, is now residing at 25 Keene St., Providence, R. I.

STAY ON THE FAIRWAY;
STICK TO CAMELS!

SOMEWHERE between your collar-button and the bottom of your plus-fours there's a smoke-spot—seeking "fill-fullment." The vast majority of jobbies who feel that in'ard hankerin' have discovered what to do about it. They pull a cool cloud of joy away down into it—and slowly exhale fragrant Camel smoke.

Tobacco science has produced in Camel a superb blend of the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos. Just revel once in the delicious, quivering aroma of a cloud of Camel smoke. We'll bet a caddie to a left-handed niblick you'll never get off that fairway!

Eustacia, Leonard's wife, played by Pauline Sanford, offers the best feminine role. She is a baby doll who is only comfortable when petting and coddling the temporary apple-of-her-eye. Ethel Palmer plays Anne, one of the runaway immates in the asylum for escaping lovers, a charming girl full of life and spirit.

Richard Gould is Dominic, the chief of Lattimer's staff, a sort of grandiose major domo. Others in the cast are Grant Lavery, Henry V. Brooks, Jane Carrick and Zella Cole.

Undergrad Votes Changes In Athletic Constitution

bers of the Council at all times. 7. To prepare in consultation with the manager of the team a budget of receipts and expenditures for that team for the ensuing year and to be submitted to the Council. He shall be empowered to contract for, and to buy, all athletic supplies for the different teams. No manager shall have authority to contract any debt or to commit the Association to any expense without a requisition, duly signed by the Director of Athletics.

Another feature of the new constitution is the provision made under Section two of Regulations for eligibility for the award of football, and basketball letters. Basketball: For the award of the "M" he must have played at least one-half the total possible number of periods in intercollegiate basketball. Eight or more consecutive minutes shall constitute a period. Football: For the award of the "M" he must have played in any two of three games. Such games to have been previously designated at the beginning of the season by the Athletic Council. For the award of class numerals a member of the freshman class must have satisfied the equivalent of the requirements for the varsity "M."

A new system for the election of assistant manager was adopted. Article IV Sections 2-11: 2. One vote for assistant manager shall be allowed each of the following: coach, captain-elect, and assistant manager for the season just completed of that department. One vote shall be allowed the team, which consists of the letter men of the season just completed, and not including the manager of that season, or the captain-elect of the following season. In case the vote results in a tie, this tie shall be broken by the manager. One vote shall be allowed the Athletic Council following the disclosure of the result of votes of the other parties to this election, which votes shall be cast secretly by the parties to the election, delivered to the Director of Athletics, and opened by him at a meeting of the Athletic Council held for this purpose. 3. The vote of the team shall be taken at its meeting in accordance with Article VI, Section 1 of the By-Laws. Following the election of captain, the manager presiding shall turn the meeting over to the Director of Athletics, who shall take the vote for assistant manager. The vote shall be taken by secret ballot upon the names of all candidates for the assistant managership, and counted by the Director of Athletics. The person receiving the majority of the votes thus cast shall receive the vote of the team in the final election. 4. The Director of Athletics shall, before disclosing to the Athletic Council the result of the votes taken, make a recommendation to the parties of the election as to the business ability of the candidate, based on the rating of an examination to be given by the President of Council and himself on five days' notice before the last intercollegiate contest. This examination shall be rated on the basis of 100 percent and shall, when graded, be shown to the parties to the election if requested. 5. All candidates for the office of assistant manager shall work the same number of hours, and a record of the hours of work of each candidate shall be kept by the assistant manager, who shall place it in the hands of the Director of Athletics weekly. 6. The candidates for the office of assistant manager shall be members of the sophomore class and shall report for duty at the call of the manager prior to the season. 7. If the office of assistant manager in any department shall become vacant, the vacancy shall be filled from the remaining candidates by an election conducted as provided above. If the office of manager shall become vacant the vacancy shall be filled from the remaining candidates of his own class in the same manner. 8. Managers and assistant managers may be removed by the Athletic Council at its discretion and an office may be declared vacant, and may be filled as hereinbefore provided. 9. Unless by special action of the Athletic Council, no student holding any office of manager shall during the term of his office be a member of the department team of which he is manager, nor may he hold in the same year a second office as manager. 10. The manager of freshman football shall be selected after the regular election of the assistant manager of varsity football from the remaining candidates, and be awarded an "M A A" 11. The managerships of Track and Cross-Country shall be held by different men.

The Athletic Council in the future will function in a different manner. It will act in an advisory capacity on athletic policy and the management of funds. This is provided under Section 5: The Athletic Council. Its duties and powers. This Council shall advise the general athletic policy of the college, and shall promote the interests of the several departments recognized by it, and shall advise the management of funds of the department. 1. Approve the election of every undergraduate official of every undergraduate team. 2. Decide all disputed elections and its decisions shall be final. 3. Have power by a two-thirds vote of its total membership to remove from office any captain, manager, assistant manager. 4. Decide questions of eligibility in all cases which come under article XI of the By-laws, and its decision shall be final. 6. To award the proper insignia to eligible students. 7. Regulate the use of the "M" monograms and numerals. 8. Make By-laws. The By-laws may be altered or amended by a two-thirds vote of the entire Council and Undergraduate Association. 9. Consider promptly any petition for amendment of the By-laws, presented in writing and signed by at least fifty members of the Undergraduate Association.

COUNT VON LUCKNER ENGAGED FOR ENTERTAINMENT COURSE

Committee Negotiating For Erskine, Noyes and Others of Note.

The college entertainment committee has several announcements concerning the course of musical and literary events to be presented next year. Especial care has been taken to interest the student body and a great variety of talent has been secured with this end in view. Contracts have already been signed with Count von Luckner, the famous German sea devil, who will speak of his exciting war adventures. It is hoped that the services of John Erskine, author of "Helen of Troy" and of "Galahad" may be secured for a lecture.

Lovers of the drama will be glad to learn of the engagement of Charles Rann Kennedy and of Edyth Wynne Mathison, who will present a series of one act plays written by Mr. Kennedy.

Musicians will be pleased to learn of the engagement of the English Singers, an organization which has in the last three years, won a reputation of the highest merit in the United States. The Barrere Symphony Orchestra will give an orchestral program and Segova, the renowned Spanish guitarist, will present in Middlebury the program which won for him the acclaim of New York last season.

Negotiations are under way to secure the services of Alfred Noyes, the famous poet, and Count Tolstoy, the son of the great novelist.

New Economic Program.

Economic course are now scheduled to be offered exclusively to women. They are designed to give the student a broad grasp of the subject matter and point of view of economic science, and yet prepare her for advanced courses with the men should she wish to elect them.

The courses for men have been arranged in yearly sequence as well as course secquence, as follows:

Second year students (or Sophomores. An elementary and introductory course in economic principle offered as a year course. The student here is advised to consider the Mathematics of Finance, and Economic Geography or Economic History as closely related and allied subjects.

Third year students. 1st semester—Financhial Organization, Marketing; 2nd semester—Corporate Finance & Investments, Transportation Economics.

The student should elect this year the remainder of the suplementary courses suggested for the second year.

Fourth year students. Labor Economics and Labor Problems—year course. 1st semester—Government Finance, Business Administration and Applied Economics; 2nd semester—Social Control of Business and International Trade, Money and Banking.

Business Administration is a new course offered to seniors and open only to those who have prepared for a business career as shown by the courses they have taken and are taking.

In addition, the department is granted the privilege of introducing the scheme of general examinations for students seeking honors in the department.

It supercedes all other honor requirements for the department. The student prepares himself in the regular manner, but with more freedom with respect to courses, and with closer contact with instructors in the department. He elects to study for honors at the beginning of his third year. The general examination covers his two years of work in Economics and includes Economic History and Economic Geography as required subjects.

Second year men making Economics their special field should consult with the department instructors before making up their year's work sheet.

Word has been received of the marriage of Melvin A. Perkins, '22, to Miss Edna E. Leap, of Carneys Point, N. J., on April 9th, 1928. After a trip to Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Perkins will make their home at Carneys Point. Mr. Perkins is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and is employed as a research chemist in the Jackson Laboratory of the Du-Pont Company at Deep Water Point.

"The National Joy Smoke" is no mere catch-phrase

YOU can prove it. Prince Albert is the Nation's largest-selling brand of pipe-tobacco. It brings joy to more smokers than any other brand. Q.E.D.! Your first fragrant whiff will set your mouth a-watering.

And your first taste of good old P.A. in a pipe will satisfy your pipe-hunger as nothing else ever has. Cool as the first period. Welcome as the last. Mellow and mild and long-burning, right to the bottom of the bowl. Try P.A., Fellows, on my say-so.

A snappy roadster, a wonderful girl, and a pipeful of good old P.A.!
